Revolutionary Love

Learning to love more fully, more deeply, is to walk the path toward Jesus. The kind of love that Jesus taught and lived was much more courageous than I think we give him credit. The love of Jesus was, and still is, revolutionary, in part because he was able to move past fear into a deeper practice of love.

The season of Lent is often a time of self-reflection as a way of taking seriously the faith that sustained Jesus to the cross. I want that kind of faith. I hope you do, too. That's why we're going to sink our teeth into LOVE for the season of Lent because being a Christian is not about love in the sense of cheesy romantic-comedy (although I do love a good Rom-Com) as much as it is about loving as a daily practice. Ed Bacon is an Episcopal priest who wrote the book, "8 Habits of Love". Work with his congregation has led him to embrace the messiness and joy of love.

Bacon says that there are three ways we can approach the world: as a victim, as a hero, or as a learner. A victim may feel that they have been wronged and therefore need to be vindicated. A hero may approach life in need of validation of their ability to do it all and rescue everyone around them. And a learner – well, a learner opens herself up to discovering something new in every situation.

Each week we will approach one of these eight habits of love with a learner's mindset. There will be time for stillness and joy, playfulness and reflection. We will together ask questions like this:

- ★ How can you live the most meaningful life you possibly can?
- ★ What does that life look like for you and for this community?
- ★ How does a family or business, nation or church leave behind fear and enter into love?
- ★ How can we learn to play, as children do so well, to love more joyfully?
- ★ What if I tell the truth in love and find that my relationships suffer as a result?

Follow the roadmap on this page to see each of the steps on this path toward Easter – when Jesus died and rose again so that we might have life and love – in abundance!

With Love,
Pastor Julie

Are You Holding Up?

Ash Wednesday and Lent are right around the corner and I'd like to begin our "Prayer Warrior Ministry" at the beginning of this contemplative and introspective season of the church year. Last month I described what a "40-day experiment" is in which, I will pray and provide a "40-day experience!" Prayer Warriors are those who "hold up" before the Lord the petitions of the people.

Prayer Warriors will commit to spending time in prayer at a certain time each day (agreed upon by participants). The Scriptures indicate that the "fervent, effectual prayer of the righteous avails much" and "where two on earth agree (in prayer) about anything, it will be done for them." There is power in prayer – especially corporate prayer – because prayer addresses the One Who alone is able to answer prayer and to send power and provision to answer our petitions.

I challenge each of you to participate in this 40 day experiment experience. It will cost you nothing but 15-30 minutes out of each day's 24 hours. You can pray at church, in the car, (don't close your eyes!), at the kitchen table, in the office, even in your bed! As we long for the Spirit of God to be released in and through us—personally and as a congregation – let's join together in prayer and watch God open the floodgates of heaven and pour out on us blessings in such measure that we cannot contain it! Then, renewed, refreshed, and confident in faith, we can go out from here and spread the news of our unconditionally loving, all-embracing, unrestrictedly welcoming Savior and Lord.

For those interested in gathering at church, I have scheduled the following times for the sanctuary to be available: Wednesdays 9:30 AM-10:00 AM and Thursdays 6:30 PM-7:00 PM. Please call Leanne at church or email me if you're up for the challenge and ready to see God's power in action!

Calling All Computer Geeks

Amazing Grace is currently looking for an IT support specialist who would volunteer to help keep the church's network and computers operating efficiently, safely, and securely. Weekly support required is on average less than an hour, but on occasion it can spike to 4-5 hours.

Monthly maintenance is normally done after Microsoft releases their monthly updates, almost always the second Wednesday of the month. This is normally about 4 hours monthly for the 6 laptops we have for staff. Additionally, the 10 laptops for Sunday School require updating twice yearly, before and after the Sunday School season.

In addition, setting up a new computer or reconfiguring an old one when staff changes over takes 2-3 hours each. Maintaining the online accounts for new and existing staff can take an additional hour or two monthly.

Anyone interested in finding out more information on providing the necessary IT support can contact Russ Barnhart @ rbarnhart@hennenassociates.com or the church office.

Good News from Henan, China

Submitted by Charlotte Gronseth

China Service Ventures has just received good news from Henan authorities: CSV will now be permitted to resume its Summer Camp Program. Three years ago it had been informed—one week before the camp was to open—that these camps were forbidden. Needless to say, it was a huge disappointment to the campers and counselors. We thank God for this change.

Because of China's religious laws, especially the most recent ones, Bible classes are not allowed. However, important Christian values will be shared, and among these, LOVE. Thank you to those here at Amazing Grace who are crocheting pretty red hearts (for bookmarks or decorations) to give to these children. We expect that many, as in the past, will ask questions, which then may be answered. That is the opening for sharing God's wonderful love. Thank you!

Where is God leading us?

Submitted by: Stef Bailis, President

The title of this article is inspired by one of the questions put to the congregation at the “Conversations with the Council” meetings in December. Another key question from the “Conversations” was “What are some opportunities for improvement?” In addition to eliciting input from the members of the congregation, the ministry teams were asked to provide their recommendations on the following questions: What should we keep? What should we drop? What should we add? What should we improve?

The underlying theme is “change.” Change is a necessary feature in the development of any entity—whether it be a child, a business, or a church, etc. Healthy change is necessary for survival; but unwarranted change is more likely to be harmful.

If we set as a goal of Amazing Grace mere “survival,” we can probably do so. After all, as the results of the Conversations with the Council have indicated, many value the fellowship and social aspect of Amazing Grace, and will continue to support the church enough for it survive. But if all we are willing to do is survive, would we be acting faithfully to the will of God? I think not. I believe that God calls us to not just survive but to thrive.

Too often I hear of the decline of the church in America, but this is not universally true. Yes, the ELCA and other mainline protestant denominations are in decline. But must they inevitably decline? Some parts of the church in America are indeed thriving. It seems those churches that are thriving tend to be non-denominational or semi-denominational. What makes some churches thrive? What features of a church are necessary for a church to thrive? Are we willing to consider adopting those features? I propose that if these church-thriving features are compatible with what Jesus has taught us, and if they are feasible, then at least we should try them out. But we should not “throw out the baby with the bath water” either. Amazing Grace has features which some of the thriving churches might not have, features that clearly are in the spirit of what Jesus has taught us. These we should retain.

I am very blessed to be part of a capable, conscientious, and dedicated team at the Council. We shall endeavor to fulfill our duty, but we cannot do it effectively without your involvement. Council meetings are “open meetings”; all members are welcome to attend. We are also very approachable; feel free to communicate your questions, suggestions, concerns, etc.

Where is God leading us? Let us pray for discernment of God's will and, when a consensus is formed, may we boldly proceed ahead!

Faithfully yours,
Stef

Care for This Congregation Continues!

Your Amazing Grace ministry staff works together to provide prayer, visits, phone calls, and provide Holy Communion, in order to facilitate connections with God and the Amazing Grace community.

Pastor Julie Wright, Lead Pastor

I am your first point of contact for any urgent need of care, connection or prayer. This includes, but is not limited to: Mental or physical illness, hospitalization, or diagnosis, in need of prayer, problems with relationships, or any other crisis that might arise. Life can be messy and things come up all the time, so I am on-call and ready to respond to your need to connect, to be joined in prayer, and surrounded by a community that cares for you. God does not intend for anyone to be alone in their joys and concerns, so it is with that in mind that we become a community united in Jesus. Due to HIPPA privacy laws, healthcare providers/hospitals can not notify the church when you are hospitalized, but you can always call or text me. Cell phone: 651.271.1427.

Pastor Tess Panamarow, Pastor of Congregational Care

For the last 8 months, Pastor Tess Panamarow has been serving as Amazing Grace's Pastor of Congregational Care. She works for us only 10 hours a week, but in those hours are filled with sharing the love of Christ with those who need a kind smile, an encouraging word, a reminder of God's promise and Presence, and, sometimes a good belly laugh! Pastor Tess also:

- Coordinates the "Hands and Feet" ministries
- Leads a worship service with communion at Inver Glen (the senior living residence next door to the church) the first Thursday of every month at 10:00-10:30 am. (Everyone is invited, even if they are not residents of Inver Glen.)
- Provides back-up and assistance for Pastor Julie as needed and requested, such as: covering emergency calls, assisting in Sunday worship, and filling in when Pastor Julie is away, including preaching about once a month.
- Conducts visits, connecting with members who are home-bound, shut-in and in care facilities. Stops in to visit and participate with various ministry groups – "Knit & Chat," "OWLS," Vacation Bible School and others.

Amazing Grace's staff works with many other committed ministries of this church:

Funerals: Barb Malamen has a knack for hospitality! She coordinates funeral hospitality at Amazing Grace by providing food and beverages for those in grief.

Hands and Feet: Ministers with a love of God's people visit others in need of connection and prayer.

Meals: When meals for those in crisis or grief are needed, Lynda Bartlette does a great job coordinating volunteers to provide (comfort) food.

Rides: Norm Beckman, in his generosity, locates volunteer drivers to provide rides on a short-term basis.

Personal Prayers: Linda Erickson coordinates personal prayer leaders who, during most worship services, provide one-to-one prayer during Holy Communion.

Prayer Chain: Mary Garfield helps us pray for all those with prayer requests through email alerts. These prayers are a key element to healing.

Prayer Shawls: Gifted knitters make prayer shawls, stitched with prayers of love which are then delivered to those in need of comfort.

The most important ministry that Pastor Tess provides for Amazing Grace Lutheran Church is PRAYER. She regularly and faithfully prays for those whose names cross her desk or are called to mind by the Spirit. Prayer is the hub of Pastoral Care ministry. Nothing is (or should be) designed, developed, or begun without prayer.

Tim Marburger, Children and Youth Minister

Tim, as our Children and Youth Minister, works with Pastor Julie and Pastor Tess on various pastoral duties, especially as they apply to the children, youth and families of the congregation. Tim has made numerous hospital and home visits over the past 2 years at Amazing Grace. In addition, Tim spends time out in the community at events that impact our youth – their concerts, sports games, volunteering, school events, fundraisers – letting the kids and their families know that the church is not just in the church building, but in the world with them.
